

Join us June 2, 2018
from 9:00 am to 3:15 pm!

Lawton Chiles High School
7200 Lawton Chiles Lane
Tallahassee, FL 32312

Hosted by:

What is Edcamp, you ask?

Join us for a day of networking and sharing with other educators about instructional technology and teaching strategies. Edcamp Capital is an “unconference” where every educator can share and learn.

Free to the public, Edcamps bring the best of both worlds together: a conference atmosphere where anyone can present. The premise of Edcamp is to give teachers control over their own professional development. In short, Edcamps are:

Free: Edcamps should be free to all attendees. This helps ensure that all different types of teachers and educational stakeholders can attend.

Hosted: Any organization or individual should be able to host an Edcamp. School districts, educational stakeholders and teams of teachers can host Edcamps.

Grassroots: Anyone can be a presenter who attends an Edcamp. All teachers and professionals with expertise in the educational arena have something to share!

Non-commercial: With a vendor-free presence: Edcamps should be about learning, not selling.

Sessions: Determined the day of the event, sessions do not have to be pre-scheduled but should be spontaneous, interactive, and responsive to participants’ needs.

“Rule of Two Feet:” All participants are encouraged to put their two feet to work. If the session is not what it seemed from the description, simply move on to another session!

Check us out!

Register at:

www.edcampcapital.org

Who: Any educator who wants to ‘Work Smarter, Not Harder!’

What: Edcamp Capital, an ‘unconference’

When: June 2, 2018, 9:00 am—3:15 pm

Where: Chiles High School Cafeteria and Building 9

Why: Collegial learning, connecting, and sharing

How: Sign up on our website and come ready to learn and share.

Connect with us:

#EdcampCapital

@EdcampCapitalFL

Lindsey Brown—brownl2@leonschools.net

Allyn Howard—howarda@leonschools.net

Kathleen Malloy—malloyk@leonschools.net

David Schubert—schubertd@leonschools.net